Few approaches of professional development include the steps like study, learning, practice, improvement, consultation, reflection and expression. Our main intention is to encourage our registered members, eminent and experienced valuation professionals and researchers to express their views, experience and findings in relation to their profession. Our keen desire is to make it performing as a forum for exchange your valuable views and ideas and at the same time, the aspirants and professionals both will be able to augment their knowledge relevant to their field which they would be able to successfully apply in valuation of any project.

The Registered members are invited to publish their articles in E-Notes and it has been decided that they will earn points under Continuous Education Programme (CEP). We will try our level best to publish it on quarterly basis. Well wishes from all corners are our main force to achieve our goal.
